Lex Mundi Member Firms Light Up the Path for Lithuanian Electric Company's Successful Negotiations in Sweden

LAWIN, Lex Mundi member firm for Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, was contacted by its client, a Lithuanian electric company, regarding the development of an undersea interconnecting cable between Lithuania and Sweden.

In order to implement the project, the client and a Swedish electric company needed to agree on a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) that would be governed by Swedish law. The client contacted LAWIN requesting assistance in reviewing the document.

LAWIN reached out to Advokatfirman Vinge KB, the Lex Mundi member firm for Sweden, to obtain the local legal advice necessary for negotiating the terms and obligations of the MoU.

LAWIN worked directly with the Swedish member firm to collect the information requested by the client and manage the billing matters for services rendered.

The client was very satisfied with the advice received from the Lex Mundi member firms and was able to successfully negotiate the MoU. The client was also impressed with the member firms' ability to work together to seamlessly coordinate their services on its behalf.
